

Market commentary: The VN-INDEX neared five-week high, boosted by Food & Beverage, Aviation stocks

The VN-INDEX made a strong reversal before rising 0.5% in its fourth consecutive gain to close near a five-week high, as SAB and VJC lent strong support. Vietnam's main stock index, which has been hitting fresh one-month highs in the past two days, kicked off cautiously and quickly dipped to its intraday low of 770.9pts (-0.8%) as some large caps faced strong selling pressure. But it made a gradual recovery towards the end of today's session as bottom fishing activities built up. Food & Beverage sector became the market pillar, in which SAB rose impressively by 3.0% and alone added 0.8pts to the index's gain, while DBC even hit the ceiling price. Other stocks in the sector joined the rally, including VNM (+0.1%) and BHN (+3.8%). Several large caps from Oil & Gas and Aviation sectors further strengthened the market's intraday recovery, led by VJC (+4.7%), GAS (+1.2%) and PLX (+2.8%). On the downside, several blue chips losing ground included GVR (-3.1%), VHM (-0.4%) and VIC (-0.1%). However, these laggards were surpassed by the bullish large caps. Finally, the VN-INDEX broke the 780-pt psychological level to land at 780.7pts (+0.5%), the highest since the 11 Mar closing level of 811.4pts, while the HNX-INDEX inched up 0.4% to end at 108.8pts.

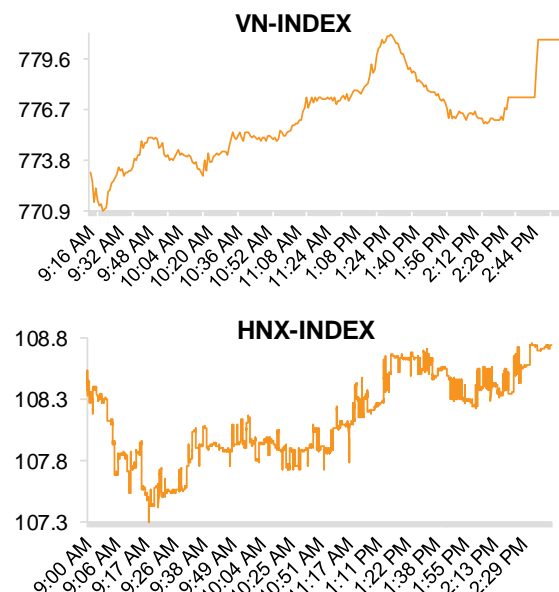

Energy (+2.7%), Industrials (+2.1%) and Consumer Staples (+1.0%) rose, while only Real Estate (-0.1%) lost ground. Top index movers included SAB (+3.0%), VJC (+4.7%), GAS (+1.2%), PLX (+2.8%) and VCB (+0.4%). Top index laggards consisted of GVR (-3.1%), VHM (-0.4%), VIC (-0.1%), BVH (-0.7%) and POW (-1.2%). Top three major put-through transactions were MSN with 5.6m shares (VND318.1bn), EIB with 6.0m shares (VND90.6bn) and VNM with 0.9m shares (VND85.0bn).

Market News

Oil holds near 18-year low as demand shock outweighs output cuts. Oil was anchored near US$20 a barrel after closing at an 18-year low as concerns over virus-led demand destruction outweigh an agreement by the world's biggest producers to curb supply. U.S. crude stockpiles ballooned by a record 19.2m barrels and gasoline consumption held near the lowest level in three decades last week as efforts to stem the spreading coronavirus curb travel and keep people in their homes. The International Energy Agency said Wednesday that even output cuts by OPEC+ couldn't counter the demand collapse caused by the pandemic. (Bloomberg)

Vietnam's Transport Minister: North-South Expressway to be put out to bid. The Ministry of Transport will put component projects of the North-South Expressway out to bid, Minister Nguyen Van The told the Vietnam News Agency on April 14. According to the plan on developing Vietnam's expressway network to 2020 with vision to 2030, the North-South Expressway is to be 2,109km long and stretch from the northern mountainous province of Lang Son to the southernmost province of Ca Mau. It comprises 11 sub-projects, with three set to be funded by the State budget and the remaining eight implemented under the public-private partnership (PPP) format. However, the eight PPP sub-projects have received Government approval to be converted into the public investment model. The transformation aims to optimise undisbursed public investment capital and complete the project within the timetable set by the National Assembly. Nguyen Van Thanh, former Chairman of the Vietnam Automobile Transportation Association, said component projects must be put up for open tender and be in line with the law in order to avoid any public doubt or risk for both decision-makers and project managers and must also ensure business competitiveness. Thanh's views were echoed by Dr. Tran Chung, Chairman of the Vietnam Association of Road Traffic Investors, who supports the bid option. Military enterprises should be given priority to take over essential projects in sections that have major national security and defence implications. Vu Duc Nhan, Deputy General Director of the Phuong Thanh Company, said that either appointing contractors or selecting them through a bidding process has advantages and disadvantages. Under either, he added, the top priority should be transparency. Selection must be based on businesses' financial, human, and technological resources, among other matters, in particular their experience in expressway construction, he said. The appointment of contractors under the defence ministry should only be done for certain sections, he added, suggesting a bidding process for the remainder so that all enterprises can take part. The Cienco 4 Group has proposed the Ministry of Transport appoint it as contractor or investor of the section running from Thanh Hoa province to Ha Tinh province in the north-central region, as the company has already invested in the Nghi Son (Thanh Hoa) - Cau Giat (Nghe An) section of National Highway 1A under the build-operate-transfer (BOT) model. Minister The held a video conference with representatives from 13 cities and provinces on April 14 regarding site clearance along the entire North-South Expressway. He said that up to 70% of site clearance work in the 11 component projects has been completed to date. The work must be fully completed prior to June so that construction can begin in August, he added, urging the ministry and localities to take drastic action in this regard. (Vietnamnet.vn)
