

Market commentary: The VN-INDEX eased from 3-week high as strong selling dominated late trading

The VN-INDEX closed 0.5% below the three-week high hit in the previous session as investors took profit from Financials stocks following their three-gaining streak. After the first minutes of cautious trading, Vietnam's main stock index quickly turned around and gradually rose to its intraday high of 860.3pts (+0.6%). The advance was mainly fuelled by the Consumer Staples sector, with SAB and VNM increasing 1.1% and 0.3%, respectively. The Retail sector also scored a positive trading day, with MWG rising 1.1% and PNJ edging up 0.9%. However, as the session was nearing its end, investors began selling other large caps, thus pushing the VN-INDEX below the reference price level. Notably, VCB and BID from the Financials sector took a dive of 1.2% and 1.6%, respectively, and wiped a combined 1.8pts off the index. Other market pillars joined the slide and further exacerbated the bearish sentiment, including VIC (-0.7%), MSN (-1.8%) and HPG (-1.6%). Finally, the VN-INDEX lost 0.5% to close at 850.7pts, and the HNX-INDEX also fell 0.5% to end at 116.2pts.

Only Consumer Discretionary (+0.6%) rose while Financials (-1.0%), Health Care (-0.9%) and Industrials (-0.8%) lost ground today. Top index movers included SAB (+1.1%), VHM (+0.4%), VNM (+0.3%), MBB (+1.2%) and MWG (+1.1%). Top index laggards consisted of VCB (-1.2%), BID (-1.6%), VIC (-0.7%), MSN (-1.8%) and HPG (-1.6%). Top three major put-through transactions were VCG with 105.6m shares (VND2,512.5bn), CII with 2.5m shares (VND43.7bn), and E1VFN30 with 2.4m shares (VND32.0bn).

Foreigners net sold on HOSE to the amount of VND212.8bn, and also net sold on HNX to the amount of VND30.0bn. They mainly bought SAB (VND40.8bn), GAS (VND37.6bn) and E1VFN30 (VND36.8bn); and mainly sold VNM (VND57.7bn), VCB (VND42.4bn) and MSN (VND40.6bn).

Oil falls with broader markets as virus worries return

Oil followed European markets lower on Friday as the demand impact of the coronavirus pandemic continues to cap price gains. Futures were down 1% in New York, mirroring a drop in stock markets, as the U.K. placed new rules on arrivals from some countries. It's the latest measure that shows the potential for a patchy recovery in oil products consumption, underscored by the International Energy Agency's downward revision to the majority of its demand forecasts for the next 18 months in its most recent report. Despite Friday's losses, crude is set to eke out a small weekly gain following a slew of encouraging data on U.S. crude stockpiles, gasoline consumption and refinery activity. (Bloomberg)

Pandemic wipes out most profits of Vietnamese catfish companies

As exports have been stagnant because of the pandemic, catfish companies are experiencing tough days, anticipating big losses in 2020, reported CafeF. According to the Vietnam Association of Seafood Exporters and Producers (VASEP), catfish is one of the seafood items that has suffered most, with export turnover decreasing by 31% in 1H20. Cuu Long An Giang Seafood Import/Export reported a sharp fall of 93% in 2Q20 net profit from the same period last year to VND4bn. The exporter made a modest profit of VND5bn only in 1H20, while the figure was VND113bn in 1H19. Meanwhile, Vinh Hoan JSC (VHC) saw the 2Q20 profit halving to VND218bn (US$9.2m). Its 1H20 profit also halved to VND368m as it could implement 35% of the yearly business plan. Vinh Hoan is seeking solutions to increase profits through value chains. In addition to the export of traditional catfish products, the company strives to increase revenue from fish fat and fish paste by 20% this year. It is expected that the sales of collagen and gelatin products will increase by 60% as new factories have been put into operation. Mekong Seafood (AAM) took a loss of VND595m in 2Q20 as its export turnover halved compared with the same period last year. The 1H20 profit was modest, just VND71m, far below the targeted profit of VND8bn this year. According to Vo Dong Duc, chair of Caseamex, the seafood industry in 2020 bears the dual impact from Covid-19 and natural calamities (climate change, drought and saline intrusion).

After reaching its peak in 2018, the catfish price has been sliding, causing both farmers and businesses to suffer. Tien Phong in late July reported that the catfish price had been hovering around VND18,000-18,500/kg over the last 1.5 years, with which farmers took a loss of VND3,500/kg. While catfish breeders were sold at VND21,000-22,000/kg, the production cost was VND30,000. Since the catfish exports have dropped dramatically because major markets have shrunk, catfish companies have been trying to conquer the home market. Nam Viet Group, with 1,100 hectares of catfish farming area, can provide 200,000 tons of catfish a year. Its export revenue in 2Q20 was VND399bn, just 50% of the same period last year, while the profit dropped by 79% to VND32bn, the lowest level since 2017. However, its domestic sales increased sharply by 113%, reaching VND485bn. This was the first time that domestic sales exceeded export turnover. The Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development believes that if the domestic market consumes 10-20% of catfish output, this would be enough to help ease pressure on farmers and seafood companies. (Vietnamnet.vn)
