

Market commentary: The VN-INDEX made a slight gain as VIC and VNM lent strong support

The VN-INDEX climbed for the first time in four sessions, closing up 0.1%, while the HNX-INDEX fell 0.7%. Vietnam's main stock index kicked off the morning session in an optimistic manner and gradually rose to its intraday high at 931.7pts (+0.4%). Specifically, VIC became the largest supporter of the index, jumping 0.5% to VND105,000 and alone adding 0.5pts to the index. Moreover, Consumer Staples large caps had a positive trading day, with VNM and MSN increasing 0.9% and 1.4%, respectively. Some Financials stocks also joined the rally and further strengthened the existing upward momentum, led by CTG (+1.1%) and VPB (+1.5%). On the other hand, profit taking activities dominated on other large caps, thus narrowing the index's gain. Notably, BID was the largest laggard and fell 1.4% to VND51,300, followed by GAS (-0.8%) and VRE (-1.3%). However, these laggards were surpassed by the bullish large caps. At the end of the trading session, the VN-INDEX gained 0.8pts (+0.1%) to land at 928.8pts, while the HNX-INDEX lost 0.8pts (-0.7%) to end at 109.3pts, mostly driven by ACB (-1.1%) and SHB (-4.1%).

Consumer Discretionary (+1.3%), Consumer Staples (+0.6%) and Real Estate (+0.2%) rose while Health Care (-0.6%), Utilities (-0.5%) and IT (-0.5%) dropped. Top index movers included VIC (+0.5%), VNM (+0.9%), CTG (+1.1%), VPB (+1.5%) and MSN (+1.4%). Top index laggards consisted of BID (-1.4%), GAS (-0.8%), VRE (-1.3%), LGC (-5.9%) and TPB (-2.3%). Market News

Supply risks from Rosneft to Libya push crude back toward US$60. Oil jumped back above US$58 a barrel and was set for the longest run of gains in more than a year as U.S. sanctions on Russia's largest producer and conflict in Libya shifted the focus to supply threats from virus-driven demand concerns. The U.S. sanctioned a unit of Russia's Rosneft PJSC for maintaining ties with Venezuela's president and its state-run oil company, threatening to crimp the nation's ability to export crude. In Libya, fighters loyal to eastern military commander Khalifa Haftar shelled Tripoli's port, forcing a halt to shipping and leading to the suspension of cease-fire talks. (Bloomberg)

Vietnam's logistics win in U.S.-China trade war. Falling one place to 11th in the global index of emerging logistics markets, Vietnam was still seen as a clear winner in the U.S.-China trade war. According to the recently released 2020 Agility Emerging Markets Logistics Index, with an overall score of 5.52 out of 10, Vietnam fell behind several Southeast Asian peers, including Indonesia (4th), Malaysia (5th) and Thailand (9th). As the world's leading logistics company, Agility, ranked 50 countries by factors that make them attractive to logistics providers, freight forwarders, shipping lines, air cargo carriers and distributors. The three factors considered in the ranking were: domestic logistics opportunities, international logistics opportunities and business fundamentals. At the same time, China remains the world's leading emerging logistics market, followed by India and UAE. Slipping one place, the report stated that Vietnam performed well in international opportunities, ranking fourth globally, while it stood 21st in domestic logistics opportunities and 20th in business fundamentals, which includes regulatory environment, credit and debt dynamics, contract enforcement, anti-corruption safeguards, price stability and market access. The report said: "Vietnam and Indonesia also saw their international logistics opportunities scores improve, with gains made via a combination of volumes won as manufacturers switched production locations from China, as well as moderate increases in domestic demand." Despite leading its Southeast Asian peers in the business fundamentals sub-index, Malaysia followed Vietnam, Indonesia and Thailand in international logistics opportunities. Malaysia saw sea freight exports to the US rise 24% in the first eight months of 2019 as a result of the trade war, but its wider sea freight market remains small by comparison with its neighbours which each have a sea freight market around three times larger. The group of six markets identified by survey respondents as having the most potential as future logistics markets was unchanged in 2020, with India and China maintaining a marked lead and Vietnam still third thanks to its improved infrastructure and domestic market in recent years, in addition to the export growth it has seen as trade shifts from China. Though fewer survey respondents this year suggested Southeast Asia as a region would benefit from the US-China trade war, most of them thought the benefit was narrowing to a few markets, adding that Vietnam – both in terms of survey sentiment and trade data – emerged as a clear winner. If businesses are going to relocate from China, Vietnam and India are the most likely investment destinations, according to 48% of those surveyed. Mexico and Cambodia were the lowest rated relocation options amongst survey respondents. The report also said: "While growth in some regional markets remains robust – including key export markets like Vietnam as well as in more nascent manufacturing locations such as Cambodia – export growth has slowed." According to the Vietnam Logistics Business Association's latest survey, there are around 30,000 logistics companies in the country, including 4,000 international ones. The industry has been growing at 12-14% annually and is now worth US$40-42bn. (Vietnamnet.vn)
