

Market commentary: The VN-INDEX bounced back as VNM, CTG lent strong support

The VN-INDEX recovered strongly in late trading and finally edged up 0.3%, with strong support from VNM and CTG. Following the downward momentum from the previous trading session, the VN-INDEX began cautiously, gradually easing to its intraday low of 889.1pts (-0.8%). Several large caps faced aggressive selling pressure and suffered losses, including VCB (-1.2%), SAB (-2.2%), GAS (-1.1%) and VJC (-1.8%). However, in the afternoon session, bottom-fishing activities emerged and dominated on other large caps, thus helping the VN-INDEX regain early losses. Notably, VNM displayed impressive performance and climbed to VND107,400 (+2.3%), alone adding 1.2pts to the index. Alternatively, some banking tickers managed to overcome the sell-off wave to land in the green, led by CTG (+1.6%) and TCB (+1.8%). Finally, the VN-INDEX recouped 2.5pts (+0.3%), rising from the lowest level in nearly 14 months hit the previous day to close at 898.4pts. In Hanoi, the HNX-INDEX gained 2.7pts (+2.5%) to end at 109.3pts thanks to an impressive rally of SHB (+10%) and ACB (+3.7%).

Energy (+2.0%), IT (+1.8) and Consumer Discretionary (+1.1%) rose while Utilities (-0.7%) and Real Estate (-0.1%) dropped. Top index movers included VNM (+2.3%), CTG (+1.6%), PLX (+2.2%), TCB (+1.8%) and MWG (+2.1%). Top index laggards consisted of VCB (-1.2%), SAB (-2.2%), GAS (-1.1%), VJC (-1.8%) and VIC (-0.3%). Top three major put-through transactions were ACV with 4.5m shares (VND218.6bn), VNM with 1.2m shares (VND125.3bn) and SVC with 2.2m shares (VND98.4bn).

Foreigners net sold on HOSE to the amount of VND230.9bn, and also net sold on HNX to the amount of VND10.8bn. They mainly bought VNM (VND179.4bn), VCB (VND102.6bn) and VIC (VND65.3bn); and mainly sold VNM (VND108.8bn), VCB (VND97.6bn) and SVC (VND89.8bn).

Market News

Oil extends slump past 13-month low on mounting pandemic fears. Oil extended losses after closing at a 13-month low as more new coronavirus cases were reported outside China than within, adding to fears the world is on the brink of a pandemic that will take a hefty toll on growth. President Donald Trump failed to calm markets at a briefing on the outbreak, with Asian equities declining and crude tumbling to $48 a barrel after the U.S. reported its first infection of unknown origin. New cases were diagnosed in countries from Pakistan to Brazil, Germany said it was likely at the start of an epidemic and Saudi Arabia halted religious visits. (Bloomberg)

Electronics producers face material shortage amid COVID-19 outbreak. Some large electronics manufacturers in Vietnam are feeling the punch from the COVID-19 outbreak as material imports and finished product exports have been affected by tighter border control. According to the Industry Agency under the Ministry of Industry and Trade, electrical and electronic products, including mobile phones and televisions, have the biggest turnover among the commodities Vietnam trades with China and the Republic of Korea (RoK), where COVID-19 is raging. Like automobile, textile-garment and footwear production, the electronics sector is suffering from a shortage of components for manufacturing. In 2019, Vietnam imported some US$40bn worth of electronic components, including US$16.8bn from the RoK (accounting for 42%), US$13.8bn from China (34%), and US$1.7bn from Japan (4.2%). Therefore, border control measures taken to prevent the disease will influence the import of materials and the export of finished electronic products, the agency said. Samsung Electronics Vietnam, a large company invested by the RoK, said border control may affect the production of several new strategic models since some components and spare parts for manufacturing have to be imported from China, mainly via border gates in northern Lang Son province. Although Lang Son authorities are working to speed up customs clearance for a batch of component imports at the request of Samsung, its material supplies from China in the time ahead are forecast to be affected since the neighbouring country plans to shut down its border gates. This will subsequently make Samsung unable to import components by road, the firm said. Samsung Electronics Vietnam added import by air or sea is currently under consideration, but it will be more difficult than via road since it is costlier and hard to supply enough materials for production in a timely manner. Recently, Samsung has still imported components from the RoK as usual. However, this country has also reported a COVID-10 outbreak over the last few days.

The company predicted more difficulties for its production inputs if the RoK government applies export-import control measures to prevent the disease. Electronics manufacturers and associations in Vietnam are proposing the government directly negotiate with central and local authorities of China about border control and disease prevention measures so as to ensure material supplies. They also called for financial support for companies in this sector to overcome difficulties. Director of the agency Truong Thanh Hoai said his office will help businesses seek other material sources and increase trade promotion activities in search of new export markets, especially those taking part in the free trade agreements that Vietnam is also a member like the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership and the EU-Vietnam Free Trade Agreement. For the long term, the Ministry of Industry and Trade has suggested many solutions to address existing shortcomings to the government, including developing supporting industries and those producing important materials, he added.
