

Market commentary: The VN-INDEX hit six-month low as large caps faced strong selling pressure

The VN-INDEX fell 1% to 949.0pts, the lowest level in around six months, following Iran's attack on U.S. bases in Iraq. The VN-INDEX plunged at the start of the session after Iran's attack on two Iraqi bases that host American troops. The index further dropped below the 950-pt supporting level as selling pressure dominated in many large caps, prompting no sectors to gain. Specifically, VHM was the largest laggard and fell 1.6%, alone wiping 1.3pts off the index. Other Real Estate large caps also slumped, including VRE (-3.7%), NVL (-4.1%) and VIC (-0.3%). Moreover, market pillars from Financials sector had a disappointing trading day, with VCB, TCB and CTG declining 0.9%, 1.9% and 0.2%, respectively. On the other hand, very few notable stocks managed to overcome the sell-off wave and closed up, led by BID (+0.9%), PDR (+6.9%) and VNM (+0.3%). However, these movers were far surpassed by the bearish large caps. As a result, the VN-INDEX lost 9.9pts (-1.0%) to land at 949.0pts, the lowest level since 27 June 2019, when it closed at 943.1pts. The HNX-INDEX also slumped 1.1% to end at 100.3pts.

Consumer Staples (-2.1%), IT (-2.1%) and Health Care (-1.9%) dropped while no sector rose. Top index movers included BID (+0.9%), PDR (+6.9%), VNM (+0.3%), KBC (+1.7%) and PGI (+6.7%). Top index laggards consisted of VHM (-1.6%), VCB (-0.9%), VRE (-3.7%), NVL (-4.1%) and TCB (-1.9%). Top three major put-through transactions were CTG with 55.7m shares (VND1,142.1bn), HVG with 51.4m shares (VND409.6bn) and VRE with 3.3m shares (VND109.5bn).

Foreigners net sold on HOSE to the amount of VND187.7bn, while net bought on HNX to the amount of VND2.4bn. They mainly bought CTG (VND904.6bn), VRE (VND116.3bn) and VNM (VND72.7bn); and mainly sold CTG (VND1,142.5bn), VRE (VND118.4bn) and VCB (VND32.2bn).

Market News

Oil jumps after Iran attacks reignite fears of supply disruption. Oil prices jumped after Iran attacked two U.S.-Iraqi bases in its first response to the killing of its top general, sparking fears the deepening conflict will disrupt global crude supplies. Futures in London briefly surged more than 5% to almost US$72 a barrel as the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps claimed responsibility for the missile strikes, which the Pentagon said were launched from Iran. Prices later pared more than half that advance after Iran's foreign minister said it had "concluded proportionate measures in self-defense" and U.S. President Donald Trump tweeted that "all is well" following the attacks. While flows from the Middle East continue to be unimpeded for now, the risk of disruption is spooking the oil market. Most crude exports from the Persian Gulf, including shipments from Saudi Arabia, Iran and Iraq, go through the Strait of Hormuz, a narrow waterway that Iran has repeatedly threatened to shut down if there's a war. The impact of the strike also spilled over into other assets, with gold surging to the highest level in six years, while U.S. stock futures pared losses after slumping earlier. (Bloomberg)

Vietnam's textile and garment companies need more orders for 2020. The number of orders that textile and garment companies have received for 2020 is just equal to 80% of that in the same period last year. The Ministry of Industry and Trade (MOIT) reported that Vietnam's textile and garment exports in the first 11 months of 2019 brought revenue of US$30bn, an increase of 8% over the same period a year ago. At a meeting with investors recently, Nguyen Van Thoi, chair of TNG Investment and Trade, the owner of TNG brand, said the company has enough orders for the whole year of 2020 with buyers from the EU and the United States. According to Thoi, with these orders, it expects post-tax profit of VND220bn, an increase of 22% over the previous year. However, not many companies report the same. Others complain they are still waiting for orders. In principle, Q4 is the time for companies to seek orders for the next year, but the number of orders at many companies is just equal to 80%. Some companies cannot get long-term orders, but only short-term ones. A representative from Vitas said foreign importers have shifted to some emerging countries in Africa, which has put difficulties on Vietnamese companies. Meanwhile, the competition with textile and garment powers such as India, China and Bangladesh is getting stiff. "The orders tend to go to countries which can enjoy preferential tariffs, such as Bangladesh and Cambodia," the representative said. According to him, the cotton price is at a low level, while the use of cotton in Bangladesh, Vietnam and China has decreased. Both business people and terminal buyers keep the demand at a minimum level and avoid storing goods. Not only garment outsourcing companies, but yarn manufacturers are also meeting difficulties when they have to compete with FIEs and India, Thailand and Indonesia. Earlier this year, analysts were optimistic about the prospect of the textile and garment industry, saying that the U.S.-China trade war and the signing of a series of new FTAs would help Vietnam gain more orders. But this hasn't happened. A warning about a lack of orders for 2020 was given in mid-2019. Two reasons were cited, including the worsening health of the world's economy, which has affected purchasing power, and the lack of enterprises' radical solutions to meet requirements on origin rules after FTAs take effect. Garment companies are under pressure as they have to pay more to buy fabric from China, while importers are trying to force the prices down. Vietnam's textile and garment industry is losing its advantage in cheap labor costs. (Vietnamnet.vn)
