

Market commentary: The VN-INDEX in biggest fall since Oct 2001 on Vietnam's virus spread, oil price crash

The VN-INDEX plunged 6.3%, the strongest slump since Oct 2001 on investors' mounting concerns over the latest COVID-19 confirmed cases in Vietnam and crude oil price crash. The Vietnamese government said at the weekend that 13 people who flew to Vietnam from London on 2 Mar had tested positive for the virus. The confirmations, coupled with a historic fall of crude oil price on Monday led to a huge selling pressure on Vietnam's main stock market. Specifically, VIC (-7.0%) and VHM (-6.9%) from the Real Estate sector together took away 12.6pts from the index. Besides, reacting to Brent crude oil futures that were down 22% by 1000 GMT following a disagreement between OPEC members Saudi Arabia and Russia over cutting oil production, Vietnam's Oil & Gas stocks faced a panic selling wave, with GAS and PLX dropping 7.0% and 6.9%, respectively. Other large caps from Financials and Consumer Staples sectors also joined the slide and further exacerbated the downward momentum, including VCB (-7.0%), BID (-6.9%) and VNM (-6.9%). On the other hand, very few stocks managed to land in green, led by QCG (+6.9%), GAB (+6.1%) and OPC (+6.2%). At the end of the trading session, the VN-INDEX closed at 835.5pts (-6.3%), the biggest fall since 3 Oct 2001 when it lost 6.5%. In Hanoi the HNX-INDEX mirrored the fall, ending down 6.4% at 106.3pts.

All sectors declined heavily today, including IT (-6.9%), Energy (-6.8%) and Financials (-6.7%). Top index movers included QCG (+6.9%), GAB (+6.1%), OPC (+6.2%), HRC (+6.1%) and CTF (+4.1%). Top index laggards consisted of VIC (-7.0%), VCB (-7.0%), VHM (-6.9%), BID (-6.9%) and VNM (-6.9%). Top three major put-through transactions were GAB with 1.4 million shares (VND 176.5bn), VPB with 5.5 million shares (VND 142.1bn), MSN with 2.2 million shares (VND 118.7bn).

Foreigners net sold on HOSE to the amount of VND221.0bn, and also net sold on HNX to the amount of VND1.9bn. They mainly bought VNM (VND128.0bn), TCB (VND103.1bn) and FPT (VND63.8bn); and mainly sold MSN (VND111.6bn), TCB (VND103.1bn) and VNM (VND97.4bn).

Market News

Oil price war kicks off with Saudi discounts luring Asian buyers. The opening battle of the global oil price war got under way in Asia as some of the world's biggest buyers said they'd try to buy more Saudi crude than planned in April after the exporter offered them unprecedented discounts. Even as they grapple with a collapse in fuel demand because of the coronavirus, at least six refiners from China to Singapore said they'd nonetheless try to maximize their purchases from the kingdom, storage capacity permitting. The scope to buy more may be limited in April because they've largely secured the oil they need for the month, the refiners said, but should the Saudis continue to offer steep discounts into May, they're ready to take even more at the expense of other suppliers. Asia accounts for roughly two thirds of Saudi oil exports, according to the U.S. Energy Information Administration. It's the first sign of how the fight for market share is likely to play out after the collapse of the OPEC+ coalition last week triggered a supply free-for-all. Within hours of talks collapsing in Vienna, the Saudis slashed their official prices by the most in more than 30 years and signaled to buyers it would ramp up output -- a declaration of intent to flood the market with crude. Market regulator agrees on financial leveraging for UPCoM stocks. Margin lending may be allowed on the Unlisted Public Company Market (UPCoM), the State Securities Commission (SSC) vice chairman Pham Hong Son said on Wednesday. The Ha Noi Stock Exchange (HNX) must make a list of stocks on UPCoM that are qualified for margin lending and submit the list to the SSC next week, he said at a meeting with investment funds and securities firms. The proposal will have to wait for the Ministry of Finance's approval, the vice chairman added. The Vietnamese stock market has been struggling in the last two months as fears about the spread of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) have dampened investors' confidence in risky assets. If the margin-lending proposal is approved, it would be a boost for the secondary market, according to the SSC. Brokerage and investment firms in recent media reports have expressed the idea that the market regulator should allow investors and brokers to use margin lending. Margin lending and other financial leverage activities, which have been forbidden on UPCoM since the market's opening in mid-2009, as the rules on UPCoM are less strict than those on the Ho Chi Minh and Ha Noi stock exchanges. There have been several cases in which UPCoM-traded companies' leaders are charged with stock price manipulation, causing losses for investors. In recent years, many large-cap companies that are good enough to list shares on the two stock exchanges have debuted on UPCoM, such as the Airports Corporation of Vietnam (ACV), Viettel Global, the Vietnam Engine and Agricultural Machinery Corporation (VEAM), the Vietnam Rubber Group, Masan Consumer, the Investment and Industrial Development Corporation (Becamex), Binh Son Refining and Petrochemical Corporation (BSR), FPT Online, PetroVietnam Oil, Masan MeatLife and Viettel Post. The companies' shares reacted well to the news. ACV and FPT Online shares jumped 4.3-4.6% on Thursday, while shares of Viettel Global, PetroVietnam Oil and VEAM gained between 0.8% and 1.5%. The secondary market tracker UPCoM-Index inched down 0.16% to end Thursday at 55.45 points. The index has lost a total of 1.37% since the market's post-Tet (Lunar New year) reopening on Jan 30. The benchmark VN-Index on the Ho Chi Minh Stock Exchange has fallen nearly 10% in the same period while the HNX-Index on the Ha Noi Stock Exchange has shed about 8.23%. (Vietnamnet.vn)
